TORONTO &
ART GALLERY OF

CHELSEA HOTEL, TORONTO

The hotel you've always loved is now called the Chelsea Toronto .

As part of the prestigious Langham Hospitality Group it has been refreshed by a multi-million dollar refurbishment over the last few years with refurbished rooms and updated restaurants.

The Chelsea Toronto is Canada's largest hotel and centrally located just steps from the city's best shopping districts, world-class theatres, vibrant nightlife and exciting attractions.

As Toronto's self-proclaimed "Entertainment Hotel", the Chelsea Toronto also offers an on-site ticket office where guests can book their attraction, concert and theatre tickets when they book their room.

An extra perk for guests staying at the Chelsea Toronto are special partnership discounts available through the hotel's "SHOW YOUR KEY AND SAVE" program. This includes some of the best attractions Toronto has to offer such as the Royal Ontario Museum, the Art Gallery of Ontario, Casa Loma and many more. And when you stay at the Chelsea Toronto you will earn DOUBLE Aeroplan miles and be part of Langham's celebrated 1865 loyalty program.

A full-service urban resort, the Chelsea Toronto has room types to suit everyone and the hotel offers four restaurants and lounges plus separate adult and family recreation areas and pools. As a premier family destination, the hotel offers a full range of services including the Family Fun Zone with Camp Chelsea supervised activities program, Kid Centre and Club 33 Teen Lounge. Plus take an exhilarating ride on downtown Toronto's only indoor waterslide, "Corkscrew".

One universal amenity is the free WiFi available throughout the hotel. And with a choice of 1,590 rooms the Chelsea Toronto is sure to have a configuration to match your needs. Many rooms feature balconies where guests can enjoy exceptional views of the downtown area and kitchenette rooms are also available.

The Chelsea Toronto also boasts 34 ultra-spacious suites that start from 450 ft<sup>2</sup>, welcoming guests with the perfect balance of comfort, convenience and personal space. Each suite features a separate living area and bedroom for added privacy and flexibility. Suites also include self-contained kitchenettes.

The spacious and inviting two-bedroom Family Fun Suites provide the perfect solution for families looking for convenient all-in-one

ART GALLERY OF ONTARIO	The Art Gallery of Ontario has become one of Canada's cultural icons. With a permanent collection of nearly 80,000 works of art, the AGO is among the most distinguished art museums in North America. And Transformation AGO over the last few years has resulted in a stunning new design by world-renowned architect Frank Gehry, which has rightly won international acclaim. The Chelsea Toronto Hotel is the official hotel partner of the AGO and you can easily walk to the Gallery if you stay at the Chelsea Toronto. In addition, as part of the Hotel's "Show your key and save" program, show your room key and save 20% off general admission. Completed in 2008, the Transformation AGO project was a massive expansion of the Gallery led by world-renowned Toronto-born architect, Frank Gehry. The ground-breaking redesign expanded the AGO by 97,000 square feet and increased exhibition space by 47 per cent. In addition to the stunning glass and wood façade that spans 600 feet along Dundas Street, Transformation AGO saw the creation of 7,000 feet of hosting space now known as Baillie Court, the Norma Ridley Members' Lounge, shopAGO and the AGO's award-winning restaurant, FRANK. The rebirth of the AGO allowed for a number of new programs to be developed, creating a cultural hub in Toronto. These programs are often themed to reflect one of the major exhibitions going on in the Gallery. So everything from the menu at FRANK and the family activities may reflect the special art that is on display at the time. AGO programs that you can enjoy include:

- A regular Cinq-à-Sept at FRANK restaurant.
- Yoga classes at the AGO amongst the paintings! Mon and Thursday evenings.
- Every Wednesday night admission to the general galleries is FREE and the AGO is open until 9pm!
- AGO First Thursdays, bring together an impressive roster of artists, live music and interactive art projects that invite gallery-goers to experience the art gallery in a brand new way. Designed to engage and entertain, these interactive art nights out feature a variety of performances, pop-up bars, art-making activities, artist and curator tours, talks and live events. Taking place on the first Thursday of each month, First Thursday at the AGO runs from 6:30 to 11 p.m. and are a ticket only event.
- And just launched are AGO Friday Nights where the best party in town runs until 9pm. Enjoy the art in a whole new way – participate in hands on art making, learn from guest speakers, wine and dine, listen to music and take it all in. Making it a night to remember - AGO Friday nights are included with general admission

An appreciation of art is one of the greatest gifts that you can give a child. And the AGO has lots of programs to involve youngsters in art,

The Kids' Gallery at the AGO is a space created especially for children and families. Together you can experience art first-hand, learn and have fun.

The AGO's Weston Family Learning Centre provides families a dedicated area for art instruction and creative play. Family Sundays in the Weston Family Learning Centre featuring art-making, hands-on activities and family-oriented tours and are included with regular admission and run from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

For more family-friendly fun, stop by the Margaret & Jim Fleck Gallery to relax and engage with art-making, books and ideas in the Family Creativity Lounge.

And the Dr. Mariano Elia Hands-On Centre is open to the AGO's youngest visitors from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The Turner Exhibition	J. M. W. Turner: Painting Set Free J. M. W. Turner: Painting Set Free is a critically acclaimed solo exhibition from the Tate Britain and it will make its only Canadian appearance in Toronto 31 October, 2015 – 31 January, 2016. This is a rare opportunity to see the works of Britain’s most famous artist up close. J.M.W. Turner has been described as “a towering figure of British 19th-century art”. Turner’s most radical achievements were in water colour. Over his lifetime, he invented a host of new techniques that elevated a basic sketching medium into high art, and he approached water colour with an unprecedented spontaneity that artists still seek to emulate today. Mocked publicly in his time, Turner baffled his critics with his radical approach. Nonetheless, he carried on experimenting with unusual subject matters and different canvas formats and mastering his free and spontaneous techniques in both oil and watercolour. He said of himself “The only secret I have got is damned hard work”. This exhibition sets out to show how his last 15 years were a time of exceptional drive and vigour, during which he continued travelling, confronting and painting the dramatic landscapes of Europe. J. M. W. Turner: Painting Set Free focuses on the artist’s later works with more than 50 paintings and watercolours on loan from Tate Britain. These painting demonstrate Turner’s famous use of rich colour, textures and his arresting use of light. Organized thematically, the exhibition takes a focused look at his travels across Europe, his fascination with classical history, mythology and religion, his love of the sea and his pre-occupations with capturing light and atmosphere. Special exhibition tickets to J. M. W. Turner: Painting Set Free include access to all galleries at the AGO. This exhibition is timed ticketed so you are able to enjoy the exhibition without it being too crowded. Find out more at www.ago.net .
Turner Programming at the AGO	The AGO is now staying open later on Friday evenings! Making its debut on Nov. 6, 2016 and continuing weekly thereafter, AGO Friday Nights launches with an exciting series of Turner-themed programming throughout the month of November. Featuring drop-in art making, talks,

	tours, a wine bar and a delicious tapas menu. In partnership with Tapestry Opera, Canada's largest and most influential contemporary opera company, the AGO presents Music Set Free, a series of live performances inspired by Turner, each Friday in November from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m AGO Friday nights are included with general admission, and free to AGO Members. In addition to free Turner-inspired drop-in artmaking at AGO Friday Nights in November, the Adult Studio will also offer Turner &amp; Watercolours, a special five-week workshop taught by instructor Kerry Kim. The larger-than-life artist makes the leap from the canvas to the big screen in a special AGO screening of Mike Leigh's biopic, Mr. Turner at the AGO's Jackman Hall Theatre. Family Sundays return this fall on Nov. 1, 2015 with a Turner-sized celebration for kids of all ages. Featuring Turner-themed art-making, hands-on activities and family-oriented tours, The Gallery welcomes Sam Smiles, professor of Art History and Visual Culture and co-curator of the Tate Britain exhibition Late Turner, for a lecture on Nov. 13th, reviewing Turner's last works. FRANK restaurant at the AGO will celebrate the Turner exhibition with flavours of Britain and a series of vibrant prix-fixe menus that feature reimagined classics of English dining, like seared scallops and mushy peas, duck cassoulet and Eton mess. shopAGO also welcomes Turner with an artful selection of British-inspired gifts, stationary, home décor and prints. And you can also buy a 224-page colour catalogue to accompany the exhibition entitled J.M.W. Turner: Painting Set Free which features 130 vibrant colour plates.

History	The area was used as a meeting place for centuries by people of the First Nations and, later, by French traders, thanks to its naturally protected harbour. In 1788, the British purchased the land from the Mississauga Indians, and a settlement slowly established itself around the waterfront area. In 1793, Lieutenant-Colonel John Graves Simcoe established a military garrison and named the town York in honour of the Duke of York of the time. It was renamed Toronto when the city was incorporated in 1834. During the War of 1812, the town was twice occupied by the Americans (both times in 1813). By 1834, its citizens – mostly British and Scottish immigrants – numbered close to 10,000. Others, such as Jews from the United States, Russia and Germany would soon arrive, as well as some 40,000 Irish fleeing famines in their homeland. Blacks escaping slavery in the USA soon followed, sowing the seeds of current day Toronto's multicultural diversity. As the population increased, so did the city's infrastructure. The University of Toronto opened its doors in 1843. Growth continued in spite of the Great Fires of 1849 and 1904. The new city included an extensive network of roads, railways, canals, shipping, and telegraph lines. In 1867, Canada was born, and Toronto became the capital of the newly created province of Ontario.
Books	The Rough Guide to Toronto – co-written by Helen Lovekin, a past guest on my radio shows and a well-written, witty and informative guide to the best that Toronto has to offer. Frommer's Toronto  Canada by Jan Morris – there's a perceptive essay on Toronto by this most excellent of travel writers.
1000 Places to see before you die	Art Gallery of Ontario  Royal Ontario Museum  Hockey Hall of Fame  Toronto International Film Festival
Must Sees	The CN Tower; Toronto's diverse neighbourhoods; the great theatre scene, Toronto Islands just offshore in Lake Ontario.

SPORTS ACTIVITIES	Toronto has more major league teams than any other Canadian city – Baseball: Blue Jays;  Basketball: Raptors;  Football: Argos;  Hockey: Maple Leafs;  Lacrosse: Toronto Rock;  Soccer: Toronto FC. There's also horse racing, boating, sailing, canoeing, inline skating, rock climbing, golf, cross country skiing...and more

Golf	Toronto and its surrounding area is a golfer's dream. There are unique doglegs, island greens -and yes, sand traps - just waiting to be conquered at over 100 highly rated courses within a short drive from downtown. Choose from either the Legends or Masters course at Lionhead in Mississauga, or head north to Aurora to walk all 7,304 yards of St. Andrews Valley. Or face the challenges of Glen Abbey and Angus Glen, both of which have hosted the Canadian Open (Canada's PGA tour event). Before you head out, be sure to get some practice in at the driving range at the Docks.
Fishing	Cast your line into Lake Ontario for some of the best fishing in Canada. For an adrenaline - fuelled outdoor adventure, book the Fin-natic fishing charter with all the latest fishing technology and equipment. Andrews Charter: Andrews Charter can provide experienced crew, full catering and two luxury yachts at competitive rates. Their boats, the 'What's Next' (45') and 'Last One III' (52') are the largest available for charter in the area and can accommodate groups of 8 to 28 people. Each boat is fully equipped for Lake Ontario salmon fishing. Andrews Charter is the longest established charter boat company in the Toronto area, having provided charters for over 30 years. Charters depart from Port Credit, Mississauga, close to Toronto. Pickup from Toronto can be arranged. Website: www.andrewscharter.ca
Hiking	The ravines in Toronto are wonderful places to escape the city without leaving the city – quiet havens of peace and shade where I have encountered white tailed deer, foxes and coyotes. City of Toronto Parks feature Discovery Walks which are a series of free self-guided walks that link the city ravines, parks, gardens, beaches and neighbourhoods. Informative signage will help you experience an area's heritage and environment. For more information, go to:  www.toronto.ca/parks/recreation_facilities/discovery_walks/discover_index.htm The Martin Goodman Trail in Toronto is at the heart of the 350 km Lake Ontario Waterfront trail. The Toronto stretch known as the Martin Goodman trail provides a leisurely or intense trek from the Eastern Beaches to the Western Beaches. You can also go well beyond those borders towards Mississauga (to the west) or Scarborough (to the east). Most the Toronto portion of the path is uninterrupted and well-marked making it perfect and safe for cycling, inline skating, walking, or jogging.
Cycling	With biking trails through most of the city's parks and lots of street bike routes, it's not surprising that Toronto has been called one of the best

	James Kudelka's glorious re-imagination of the evergreen Christmas classic is pure pleasure to experience, a feast for the senses and the imagination.
Films	On any given day, there are up to 40 productions filming in Toronto. Considered "Hollywood North" by the film industry, Toronto is 3rd in TV and film production and 2nd as exporter of TV programming in North America. Some of the films shot in Toronto: Chicago; X-Men; My Big Fat Greek Wedding; Cinderella Man; Moonstruck; and many more. Several TV shows are set in Toronto, including the very successful "Flashpoint" one of my personal favourite shows – partly because it showcases the city of Toronto so effectively.
Museums	There are 125 museums and public archives in the Greater Toronto Area; here are some of the stars – Royal Ontario Museum (ROM) - No trip to Toronto is complete without a visit to Canada's leading international Museum. Located in the heart of downtown, the ROM's renowned collections span both World Cultures and Natural History. With over 30 galleries of world cultures and natural history, as well as themed events ranging from bats to moon exploration, the ROM offers great value and lots to see and do. 	in the company of two dozen marching bands and a couple of thousand costumed participants, cheered along by excited kids. Ice Wine and Dine (November 22 from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m.)          Winter Magic continues with Ice Wine &amp; Dine, an outdoor food fest with drinks and live entertainment. Several restaurants on or near Elm Street will have food samples from their menus along with their signature drinks, with live musicians nearby and several ice sculptures will be on display. Illuminite (November 15 at 5:30 p.m.)          A unique combination of technology and artistry in a number of different performances from local and international artists. The evening concludes with the lighting of a 52,000 LED tree and other light installations around the downtown Yonge St area. Cavalcade of Lights Saturday (November 28, 2015)          Toronto's 49th annual Cavalcade of Lights presented by Great Gulf celebrates the first lighting of Toronto's official Christmas tree, live performances by some of Canada's top musical talent, a spectacular fireworks display and a skating party at Nathan Phillips Square. Toronto Christmas Market (November 20 to December 20, 2015)          Inspired by the Old World and influenced by the New, this free annual event captures all of the tradition, heritage and charm of a European Christmas Market, while showcasing hundreds of unique and local handcrafted products. Family-friendly entertainment includes musicians, carolers and children's choirs and, of course, Santa's House. There is great shopping, specialty beer and mulled wine gardens, and sweets and treats. The Christmas Market at The Distillery is the perfect opportunity to put the magic back in your family's holiday time. The Nutcracker (December 12, 2015 – January 3, 2016)          The National Ballet's sumptuous, comical, touching and spellbinding version of E.T.A. Hoffmann's Christmas tale was created in 1995 and has been enthralling audiences – especially children – ever since. It is a refreshingly traditional version of the story, replete with the details of childhood dreams and the appeal of fantasy. This is a ballet gloriously designed and costumed and brimming with affection for, and insight into, the passage from childhood to maturity that all children make.

OTHER ACTIVITIES
Shopping	Toronto's vibrant sense of community among specific neighbourhoods across the city has created the continent's best street-level shopping. Peruse the windows of Bayview Village, the high-end boutiques of Bloor-Yorkville, the trendsetting shops of Queen West or the neighbourhood stores of Bloor West Village. Dig for amazing vintage finds in Kensington Market or enjoy a variety of distinct uptown shops in the Yonge/Eglinton area. Toronto also boasts one-of-a-kind shopping adventures. This uniqueness comes to life in places like in Lululemon, a Canadian-based clothier and lifestyle merchant entirely devoted to fashionable yoga wear and accessories. For one of the best wine selections in the country, including an extensive vintages section, visit the Summerhill LCBO, the largest liquor store in Canada.

	World renowned Holt Renfrew is not your typical department store – designer jeans, runway fashions and exclusive labels fill all three floors. Malls are also not a-miss, by putting everything in one place, malls offer the best opportunity to get the most stuff in the shortest amount of time. Toronto Eaton Centre is in the heart of the downtown and is filled with level upon level of clothes, shoes, music and everything else. In other areas of the city beyond downtown, you'll find more shopping at Yorkdale, Square One and Sherway Gardens. Head to Dixie Outlet Mall for sweet deals or Vaughan Mills for unique stores like Holt Renfrew Last Call and Bass Pro Shops' Outdoor World. Shopping beyond downtown Great shopping and holiday spirit extends across Greater Toronto from two of Canada's largest malls, Vaughan Mills and Square One, to the truly unique Pacific Mall and the quaint boutiques of Old Town Markham and Unionville. There are even more options further afield, including Cookstown and Canada One outlets.
Markets	Toronto Christmas Market at the Distillery A magical market set among authentic Victorian-era architecture. Inspired by the Old World and influenced by the new, Toronto's first traditional European holiday market will capture the charm, heritage and romance of a bygone era while showcasing unique artisanal products of Toronto. Entertainment for the entire family includes live music, a Ferris wheel, holiday themed presentations and workshops, children's story telling and more. Location: The Distillery Historic District - 55 Mill St. www.torontochristmasmarket.com St Lawrence Market: Back in 1803, the governor proclaimed the area to be the "market block". Today the south building of St. Lawrence Market, dating from 1905, incorporates one of Toronto's former city halls. It holds more than 50 vendors hawking everything from maple syrup to live mussels. On Saturdays the north building springs to life at five in the morning. Regional farmers start setting out their seasonal produce while it's still dark and everything from emu eggs to apples can be found. See the special feature at the end of these notes for more details. Kensington Market: This colorful, lively area should not be missed. You'll hear Caribbean, Portuguese, Italian, and other accents as merchants spread out their wares - squid and crabs in pails; chickens, pigeons, bread, cheese, apples, pears, peppers, ginger, and mangoes from the West Indies; salted fish from Portuguese dories; lace, fabrics,

	and other colorful remnants. There's no market on Sunday. Kensington Avenue itself is a treasure trove of vintage clothing stores. Admittedly, you'll see a lot of junk here, but amazing finds can be had at shops such as Courage My Love (14 Kensington Ave.). Most of the shops display their wares out of doors in decent weather, adding to the color and charm of the area. The Evergreen Brick Works Farmers' Market features the best of the season, with a fabulous assortment of fruits, vegetables, wild fish, meat, cheese, milled flours, eggs and oils—all from local farmers. The market takes place in The Pavilions from May to October. During the colder months, from November to April, the market moves indoors to the Young Welcome Centre. http://ebw.evergreen.ca/whats-on/farmers-market
Nightlife	Queen Street West is the most happening area currently. Spacious and edgy with maverick touches, the newest addition to Toronto's nightlife is Tattoo Rock Parlour, the city's only live rock n' roll and DJ venue equipped with a resident tattoo shop. Featuring a fireplace, stage for live music and upper level that holds two bars, Tattoo Rock Parlour will amuse the senses of even the most bona fide rock star. Restaurants	Dining out is nothing short of a passion in Toronto. It's not that residents are too lazy to cook, but we are spoiled by the embarrassment of edible riches in all parts of the city. The city is a restaurant-goer's nirvana for a wealth of reasons. For starters, there are more than 7,000 places to choose among. They represent cooking styles from any country or nationality you can name, making Toronto's culinary scene both eclectic and palate-teasing. Eating out is also remarkably affordable: While the most expensive restaurants have broken the C$50-an-entrée mark, there are many, many reasonably priced options that offer inventive cooking and attentive service.

Mediterranean and Asian cuisines dominate the scene - and often appear on the same plate. Fusion cooking caught on big here and has never lost its steam. Many restaurants that started out as, say, Italian have incorporated ingredients and cooking styles from Southeast Asia and North Africa, among other haute spots. Each wave of immigration has carried new ideas and flavors.

While restaurants of all descriptions are found across the city, certain neighborhoods are renowned for their specialties: Little Italy for its trattorias, Chinatown for its Chinese and Vietnamese eateries, and the Danforth for its Greek tavernas. King Street West has unexpectedly become a magnet for gourmets in the past couple of years, offering a bevy of bistros and boîtes.

In coordination with the dramatic Michael Lee-Chin Crystal addition to the Royal Ontario Museum, Crystal Five (C5) Restaurant Lounge is on the fifth floor. Located at the pinnacle of the Michael Lee-Chin Crystal, Crystal Five is a unique dining destination.
